The assimilation above referred to will not be held to be definitely settled until the approval of the Superintendent of Customs has been obtained, which approval must be solicited in every case, and the relevant samples handled in or precedents cited. The decision given by the last-mentioned official shall be observed at all Customs houses.

The President of the Republic may prohibit the importation of beverages, foodstuffs, drugs, pharmaceutical preparations, and any substances or products which, in the opinion of the Superior Council of Hygiene, may be injurious to health.

Article 6.—The importation of animals affected by contagious diseases is also prohibited.

In cases of contravention referred to in the preceding paragraph a fine ranging from 1,000 pesos will be imposed on the importer, and he shall also be liable to pay compensation in respect of any mischief or damage caused.

Article 10.—In cases where the Tariff grants exemption of duty in respect of certain goods by reason of the use for which they are intended, this exemption will only be sanctioned when such articles, by their particular form and nature, are specially adapted for the use indicated.

Article 11.—Whenever the Tariff contains the phrases "other material" or "other materials" they will not be held to include either precious stones, pearls, fine metals or silk.

Article 12.—Manufactured articles composed of two or more materials, or articles in respect of which the Tariff stipulates that they may or may not have "pieces or parts of other material," shall pay duty at the rate applicable to the part which is subject to the highest rate of duty in cases where the part to which this highest rate is leviable exceeds 20% of the total weight of the goods, unless the Tariff prescribes other treatment.

Article 13.—All goods the proper classification of which is doubtful will pay the highest rate of duty applicable according to kind, without prejudice, however, to protests entered in accordance with Article 20.

Article 14.—When goods or products are presented with labels which

Article 69 of the Customs Ordinance is as follows:—

In the case of goods free of import duty, the warehouse fee shall be 10 centavos for 100 kilos, gross weight when the goods are cleared within the first four months of storage; 20 centavos when cleared during the course of the second period of four months; and 30 centavos when cleared during the third period of four months.

Article 24.—This Law was published in the "Diario Oficial," and came into force on April 10, 1916.

GENERAL RULES FOR THE APPLICATION OF THE TARIFF.

1. In the following cases, clearances of goods shall not be considered as legally completed unless the Chief of Appraisers (in Valparaiso) or the Administrator of Customs (in other Customs houses) has approved the clearance and noted such approval in the respective Customs entry forms.

(a) In cases where the value of goods dutiable on an ad valorem basis has to be ascertained;

(b) In cases where duties have to be assessed on goods by way of assimilation of such goods to articles specified in the Customs Tariff; and

(c) In cases when, on examination, it appears that the goods are liable, by virtue of their inferior quantity or quality, to duties less than those to which they would be subject according to their description on the Customs entry forms.

2. When it appears from these which should be applied to them in virtue of their description on the Customs entry forms, the forwarding of these forms shall be delayed for a period of 48 hours. The documents shall not be so delayed, however, in the case of goods presented for clearance in packages containing only one kind of goods if the duties are to be levied by weight and the weight as shown in the Customs entry exceeds the real weight (as ascertained) by not more than 10 %.

3. Goods composed of two or more parts which are imported in a separate condition, but within the same package, shall be dutiable at the rate applicable to the complete article when such parts correspond in class and number so that whilst they form complete articles the duties prescribed in the Tariff for separate parts of a complete article shall be applied separately when the parts are presented for clearance in separate packages.

4. Articles which are presented in an incomplete condition by reason of the absence of any part or accessory which does not modify the nature or use of the article shall be treated as though they were complete articles, unless the Tariff prescribes special duties for such articles.

5. By net weight shall be understood the weight of goods deprived of all coverings, or the weight of goods merely fastened together.

6. By legal weight shall be understood the weight of goods with all their receptacles (including fastenings) with which they are packed inside the external wrapping which serves as a general receptacle, excluding straw, chip, paper, wax, or other materials used for disposing the parcels or packets.

7. The weight of a postal parcel shall be regarded as legal weight, unless the articles are put up in their ordinary receptacles or wrappings.

8. By weight excluding boxes shall be understood the weight of the goods inside the external packaging.

9. By gross weight shall be understood the weight of the goods with all their receptacles and packings, internal and external. In the case of goods which are generally carried merely fastened up or in bulk (such as rails, iron, coal, &c.), the gross weight is that of the goods in the condition in which imported.

10. In the case of goods dutiable by legal weight, the dutiable weight shall be fixed as follows:—

(a) If the goods are presented unpacked, or merely fastened together, inside packages containing only one kind of goods, the gross weight is to be taken as the legal weight;

(b) If the goods are presented unpacked, or merely fastened together, but are in the same packages as goods of other kinds, duty is to be assessed on the net weight increased by 10 %;

(c) When the goods have been carried loose, in bulk, or merely fastened together, duty shall be levied on the net weight increased by 10 %; and

(d) If duty shall be levied on the net weight, increased by 10 % in the case of goods disposed in cases or sheaths, where such cases or sheaths are classified for duty separately.

11. When goods dutiable on gross weight are presented in the same package as other goods subject to different duties or to duty based upon various units, 20 % shall be added to the legal weight in the case of goods in receptacles or wrappings, and 30 % to the net weight in the case of goods without receptacles or wrappings. As an exception to this rule, the net weight is increased by 80 % in the case of the following goods:—Crystal vases, china, porcelain, furniture, pianos, phonolas and other apparatus for playing the piano or organ, iron wares, paraffin lamps and iron bedsteads, with or without ornaments of brass.

12. Receptacles and wrappings shall be considered as articles of commerce (irrespective of their contents), and shall be subject to the relevant Customs duty, in the following cases:—

(a) When such articles and wrappings are not those ordinarily used, but are generally used in commerce (i.e., those of which the sole use is merely the packing of goods for safety and transport);

(b) When the receptacles and wrappings are intended to increase the value of the contents by exaggerating their merits, or when their quality does not correspond to that of the goods which they contain;

(c) When it is evidently intended to use them subsequently as receptacles for other contents, ornaments, or for other similar purposes, distinct from their original purpose;

(d) When the duties on the receptacles, reckoned separately, are higher than the duties applicable to the goods contained.

13. The provisions of the preceding rule shall not apply in the case of goods in respect of which the Tariff specifies that the duties are to be applied to the goods "including the cases, receptacles and wrappings," except in the case contemplated in letter (d) of the preceding rule.

Sheaths or cases shall be classified for duty separately, unless contrary stipulations exist in the Tariff. As an exception, those containing scientific instruments, machines, tools or apparatus for professional or industrial use shall be regarded as ordinary wrappings.

15. When the classification of issues is dependent on the number of threads, the threads shall be counted by means of the instrument called the "thread counter" or by means of unwinding.

In using the thread-counter, the first thread to be counted, either in the warp or in the weft, is to be easily visible and quite distinct and as near as possible to one of the edges of the opening or frame of the instrument.

Fractions of threads in the result, both of the warp or weft, are to be neglected, even if the total of these fractions amounts up a complete thread.

In case of doubt or discrepancy as to the number of threads in cloths, a thread-counter with a larger examining area shall be used, or the tissue

(part thereof) shall be unravelled. It doubts still exist in spite of this, the dispositions of Article 13 of the Customs Law shall be applied.

16. In determining the number of threads in figured tissues or in tissues with alternate close-woven and open-woven parts, the threads of both parts shall be counted; that is, the threads included within a space of the tissue in which the pattern is completely reproduced.

17. By plain tissue shall be understood that formed by the warp threads crossing one by one the warp threads, alternating so that the recurring threads are first beneath and then above the warp threads.

Tissues composed of double or coupled threads, crossed by double or single threads, but which alternate in successive and regular form, shall also be considered as plain weave.

18. Tufted tissues are such as have diagonal strands running along the surface of the cloth from one cleavage to the other; for the purpose of the application of the Tariff, only designs formed by series of three threads shall be considered as tufted. The warp being divided into series of three threads, the weft in its first intersection (percebras) covers the first thread of each series and passes beneath the second and third; in the second intersection it covers the second and passes beneath the first and third, and in the third intersection it covers the third thread and passes beneath the first and second.

19. By daphanoma tissue shall be understood a tissue which, when placed on any printed or written matter, leaves the written or printed characters clearly visible.

20. In determining the classification of any cloth, the threads forming the body thereof shall be taken into account, and the threads in the edges (selvedges) shall be disregarded.

21. Articles imported in the piece with markings or designs indicating the pieces in which they are to be cut (e.g., those intended to be made into coats, towels, serviettes, handkerchiefs, &c.), shall be classed as tissues, according to kind. As an exception to this rule, articles joined together by fringes or which otherwise only require to be cut before being ready for use, are considered as finished articles.

22. In classifying made-up clothing, the cloth composing the lining is not to be taken into account unless it is visible on the exterior, as is the case with sleeves, collars and collings, and with the lining of clothing made of net, lace or daphanoma tissues, in which case the highest duty applicable shall be levied.

23. The duties assigned to articles of earthenware, china, porcelain, glass, or crystal, with mountings or settings of metal or parts of other material, such as wood, &c., shall only be applied in cases where the article, whether wood, &c., part is firmly fixed to the article in an inseparable whole; if such parts are removable the duty applicable thereto shall be levied thereon, separately from the rest of the article.

24. Scientific instruments and apparatus which, when presented, are joined to, or form a whole with, other articles, such as statues, inkstands, clocks, &c., shall be subject to the duties applicable to the articles of which they form a part.

25. Gold, silver and platinum shall be regarded as precious metals, and other metals as common metals.

26. The term iron includes both iron and steel.

27. The term copper includes this metal and alloys called bronze and brass.

28. In the specification of vegetable fibres contained in the Tariff, vegetable silk is not included.

29. The term wood also covers animal hair which is used in place of wood.

30. The duties fixed for articles of metal gilt, silvered, nickelled or coated with aluminium shall be applied to articles which have been subjected to any of these processes, even if only in part.

31. Beistools of iron coated with copper shall be considered as beistools of copper.

32. By the gross weight of beistools of iron, with or without brass ornaments, not imported in cases or crates, shall be considered the net weight increased by 80 %.

33. Mattresses which make a complete entity with the corresponding beistools, being an integral part thereof, shall be subject to the duties applicable to beistools.

34. Unspecified tapes and ribbons shall be classed as trimmings (pasmenteries).

35. Separate parts of furniture, not specially enumerated in the Tariff, shall be considered as furniture in a "knocked-down" condition.

36. The duties specified in the Tariff for boots and shoes shall be applied per dozen pairs.

37. Tallow is to be distinguished from fat by noting the melting point, tallow melting at over 14 degrees Centigrade.

38. All mechanical apparatus composed of various parts combined one with another, which are set in motion by any force and produce regular practical movements, are to be regarded as machines.

39. The term saddles covers saddles with their corresponding girths, stirrup-leathers and stirrups.

40. Under the term "perfumery" shall be included aromatic preparations or powders for perfuming the person or articles, except such as are specified in Groups B and C of Section 8.

41. In order that a print may be classed as an advertisement it must have an advertisement printed thereon in indelible form, and in such a way that it cannot be separated without damaging the picture.

42. When it is desired to clear through the Customs drugs, beverages, foodstuffs or other substances which may be included under the prohibition of import established in Article 4 of the Customs Tariff Law, the importers shall request the Customs to take samples thereof, these samples to be sent direct by the Customs Director to the nearest Customs or Internal Revenue Laboratory with a request that they should be analysed.

When the respective certificate authorising the importation of the goods has been obtained, the Customs Director shall authorize the presentation of the relevant Customs entries.

In estimating the qualities or properties of drugs, beverages and foodstuffs, and in declaring, as a consequence thereof, whether the goods are or are not fit for consumption, the Customs administrators shall be governed by the scientific principles generally accepted on the matter.

35. The formality established by the preceding rule may be omitted, provided that the Customs Director is prepared to accept, as sufficient evidence, an authentic certificate of analysis issued by a functionary, office or corporation of the country of origin which is competent to issue the same and which is recognised by the Government of that country. The respective Chilean Consul shall certify at the bottom of the certificate referred to that the office, &c. is so competent, and in the absence of such Consular statement the certificate shall not be taken into account.

The certificate referred to in the preceding rule shall contain, in addition to the result of the analysis, a declaration as to whether the article is fit for consumption and whether the article is permitted to be imported, in the same conditions, into the country of origin, in accordance with the regulations and ordinances there in force.

44. The Customs authorities shall keep a register of all importations (permitted or refused) of drugs, foods or other substances enumerated in Article 4 of the Customs Tariff Law. In this book the following particulars shall be entered, viz.—The name of the owner or consignee and of the clearing agent; the name and nature of the product, trade mark, maker's name, country of production, office or corporation issuing the certificate of analysis, and the number of the import or re-export Customs entry as the case may be. In the case of articles refused admission, the reason for the refusal shall also be indicated, and should the goods be destroyed or rendered useless, the date on which this was done.

45. The certificate of analysis shall be affixed to the respective Customs entry, and if it refers to a consignment cleared through the Customs in separate lots at intervals, a certified copy of this certificate shall be added to each of the corresponding Customs entries.

46. The Customs Directors shall notify the Superintendent's Department of cases in which any goods have been refused admittance as the result of the chemical analysis. At the same time they shall communicate to the Superintendent the particulars mentioned in Rule 44 and shall, if possible, forward a sample of the goods.

ARTICLES OF WHICH THE IMPORTATION IS PROHIBITED.

ARTICLE 2.—Private individuals or firms are absolutely prohibited from importing the following articles:

- Articles expressly prohibited by this Tarif.

* Tents of canvas, of cotton, unbleached—34 cts. per kilog. gross.

** Tents of hemp canvas, bleached—64 cts. per kilog. gross.

* Foreign salt which is imported through the ports of Buenaventura and Tumaco shall pay a duty of 10 centavos per kilogramme over and above the previously existing duty (2 centavos per kilogramme).

2. Apparatus and machines for minting coin.
3. Colombian postage-stamps.
4. Coins of silver, copper or nickel.
5. Stamp paper and dies, with the seal or coat-of-arms of the Republic, or with inscriptions, in forms as sold by the Government for the collection of public revenue.
6. Plates for making bank notes, with the name of the Republic.

EXPORT DUTIES.

ARTICLE 3.—The following export duties will be levied, per kilogramme gross weight, on the under-mentioned articles:—
 1. Bacon, or toquilla straw for making hats ..... 1 peso
 2. Stuffed birds ..... 3 pesos
 3. Tuna ..... up to 6 % ad valorem

VARIOUS REGULATIONS.

ARTICLE 4.—The tax on tagna, alluded to in the previous Article, will remain in force only whilst the liberty to exploit this material, provided for in the Fiscal Code, continues, and whilst for this reason forests of tagna cannot be allotted or let out on lease as uncultivated lands.

ARTICLE 5.—Goods composed of a mixture of substances dutiable at different rates will be liable to duty at the rate applicable to the part subject to the highest rate. Nevertheless, substances which are insignificant in quantity and of no decisive importance so far as the quality of the goods is concerned are not taken into account, excepting in the case of alcohol or ether, or wherever it can be reasonably supposed that the admixture has been effected with the object of avoiding the payment of Customs duty.

ARTICLE 6.—Articles produced by a mechanical combination of parts subject to different rates of duty will pay duty as entireties according to the principal part, viz., that part which constitutes the characteristic feature of the goods (such as manufactures of metal, glass-ware, monuments, &c.) Nevertheless, when there is no provision in the factories of wool, &c.) Nevertheless, when there is no provision in the Tariff for the article regarded as a manufacture of the material of which the principal part is composed, or when the principal part cannot be determined, duty on the goods will pay duty according to the part which is dutiable at the highest rate; neither those parts which are necessary for putting the article into practical use, nor those which do not increase its commercial value to any appreciable extent, shall be taken into account. Goods will not be considered as composite merely for the reason that they contain parts sewn or bolted together the different parts of the object, to give them object on the top of another, to increase its durability, and so forth.

The composite articles referred to in the previous paragraph will be dutiable as such even if they are unmounted when imported, or if unimportant parts are missing.

ARTICLE 7.—If any article has been charged at different rates in the Tariff, it will pay the highest of those duties which have been indicated in the said Tariff.

ARTICLE 8.—Articles not mentioned in this Tariff, or which do not come within the general classifications, will pay a duty equal to 60 % of their original value, in accordance with the Consular invoice, or with the expert valuation when the Chief of Customs has adequate reason to suspect fraud in the declaration, unless the Customs Board (Jurado) has already fixed the rate of duty.

The Board will fix the rate having regard to the value of the article, to the conditions as raw material or as a manufactured article, and to the duty charged on similar articles. The decisions of the Customs Board, issued in virtue of this authorisation, will form part of the Tariff so long as Congress does not legislate on the particular point.

ARTICLE 9.—Packing which is used for the protection of foreign goods will pay the same import duty as the goods themselves, with the following exceptions:—

- (1) Articles exempt from duty and those charged with a duty not exceeding 10 centavos per kilogramme may not be packed except with papers, oiled tissue, canvas or sackcloth, tarpaulin, linings, iron, zinc, lead or wood: any other material of greater value, even if imported as packing, must be declared separately, and will pay the duty applicable to it.
- (2) Articles charged at a rate exceeding 10 centavos and less than 50 centavos per kilogramme, which are imported in bales, may be packed in strips of linen cloth, of coarse canvas, or of wrapping (bayetin), or in woollen or cotton covering, provided that the weight of these articles does not exceed 3 % of the total weight value of the bale. Any excess will be declared as a separate article, even if imported as a covering, and will pay the duty fixed therefor in this Tariff.

ARTICLE 10.—Internal receptacles or packing of any article whatever will pay the same duty as the material or article which they contain, provided that such receptacles are of paper, cardboard, common wood, tinplate, iron, lead, zinc, tin, earthenware, faience, porcelain, glass or tissue of cotton, hemp, linen or wool.

When the interior receptacles or packing of an article are worth more than the substance which they contain, such receptacles or packing must be declared as separate articles, and their weight must be given in the Consular invoice. If this is not done, the whole will be assessed as of the class to which the receptacle belongs.

ARTICLE 11.—Monopoly articles intended to produce revenue for the State, Departments or Municipalities may only be imported by such bodies when they directly administer these revenues, or by those to whom a concession has been awarded in respect of such revenues. In either event they will pay, on importation into the territory of the Republic, the Customs duties fixed by this Law, except in the case of articles monopolised for the benefit of the State.

ARTICLE 12.—The ad valorem duties fixed by this Tariff will be levied on the value shown by the Consular invoices presented by the consignors to Customs, on oath, with the reservation referred to in Article 14 of this Law.

ARTICLE 13.—Goods or articles which are imported into the country by parcel post will pay the duties fixed thereby by this Tariff, even if the same parcel includes two or more articles subject to different duties; in this case, however, the contents of the whole parcel will be assessed at the rate applicable to the most highly taxed article which it contains.

ARTICLE 14.—Should the Chief of the Customs House or Post Office through which the postal packets pass suspect a fraudulent declaration of the goods referred to in the two preceding Articles, he may adopt one or other of the following two courses:—

- (1) To have the goods valued by experts and duty assessed on such valuation, if it should be greater than the declared value, but according to the latter if it is not greater; and

- (2) To take over the articles in question on behalf of the Government at the declared value plus 5 %, after consultation with the Ministry of Hacienda.

ARTICLE 15.—The Ministry of Hacienda will send to every Customs house, for use as specimens, samples of articles in respect of the classification of which difficulty may arise; a collection of these samples will be made in the Customs houses, which will be renewed or modified as occasion may arise.

Paragraph. Samples of the said articles will also be sent to the principal towns in the Republic so that the commercial community may consult them in the office designated for that purpose by the Ministry.

ARTICLE 16.—Offices (oficinas mercantiles) are established in the Ministry of Hacienda, in the Customs houses at Barranquilla, Buenaventura, Cartagena, and at other centres which the Government may consider expedient, for the analysis of merchandise. The Government is empowered to organise such offices, to equip them with the apparatus and appliances necessary for their working, and to appoint the staff and fix the basis on which the work must be carried out.

ARTICLE 17.—All clauses relative to the exemption from Customs duty in favour of persons or firms in contractual relations with the Public Administration are henceforth absolutely prohibited.

ARTICLE 18.—Contractors who, in virtue of contracts entered into with the Government, are exempted in whole or in part from the payment of Customs duties in respect of material required for their business, and who under cloak of this exemption shall import articles not included therein or who shall use any of the articles intended for the undertaking which is being favoured, or who shall transport them to places not included in the exemption, will be held to be defrauding the Public Treasury and will be punished accordingly.

Materials which remain over, or which have been found to be of no use for the undertaking in question, may not be sold without permission of the Government.

ARTICLE 19.—The Government is invested with the following powers and authority:—

- (1) To fix the import duties on imported salt, which shall in no case be less than the duties at present in force.
- (2) To establish new Customs houses on any of the tributaries or sub-tributaries of the Orinoco system, and to fix the duties to be paid at those Customs houses in respect of imports into national territory.
- (3) To concede exemption from Customs duties in respect of materials imported by the Departments and Municipalities for important works of public utility, such as installations of electric generating plants and tramways, undertaken directly by those bodies. This exemption will be limited to the materials required for the inauguration of the work, and will be limited to spare parts which are imported afterwards.
- (4) To grant the same exemption in respect of objects intended solely and exclusively for the Catholic faith, such as chalices, cibaries, shrines, canopies, mass-books, censures, statues, images &c., provided that the Bishops apply directly to the Government on behalf of the churches in their dioceses.
- (5) To grant exemption from Customs duty, with any restrictions which may be deemed expedient, in respect of instruments and appliances imported by scientific explorers and travellers who visit the country to make investigations which the Government may consider to be of positive utility.
- (6) To grant exemption to operatic or musical or dramatic companies in respect of costumes, decorations, musical instruments, and other accessories belonging to their equipment.
- (7) To sanction exemption from Customs duties in respect of materials, books and scholastic articles imported by the Departments and Municipalities for public instruction, provided the Governor or the President of the Municipal Council as the case may be, applies direct to the Government.
- (8) To grant the same exemption, with the necessary conditions to obviate prejudice to the Customs revenue, to benevolent institutions, supported by the Departments or by the Municipalities, as well as to those founded or maintained by religious communities, and also to those which comprise drugs, medicines, and surgical appliances. This exemption, in question, and as far as the religious communities are concerned, it applies to their vestments and to the cloth for making them. In the first case, application will be made to the Ministry of Hacienda through the Governor of the Department in which the charity or benevolent institution is operating, and in the second case through the proper Diocesan Bishop.
- (9) To reduce and even temporarily to suppress, for the whole nation or for any one or more Departments, the Customs duties on staple food stuffs, if, owing to the failure of the harvests or to some other calamity, there is considerable scarcity in the district affected by famine. The Government may, however, avail itself of this power only during a parliamentary recess, and at the request of the Municipalities and Chambers of Commerce of the Department or Departments in which the scarcity of food-stuffs occur.
- (10) To exempt from import duties chemical and physical laboratories which are imported for instruction in private colleges.

ARTICLE 20.—Samples of goods imported through the Customs houses may be admitted duty free provided the following conditions are fulfilled:—

- 1st.—That samples of all kinds of merchandise having no commercial value are presented in such a form as to be useless for any purpose other than that of taking orders.
- 2nd.—That samples of tissues, coloured felts and paper do not exceed 40 cms. in length calculated on the warp of the tissues, even though they be of the whole width of the piece, which will be determined as follows:—In the case of tissues by the selvages and in the case of coloured felts and paper by a narrow border which is left unstamped along the side edges. Samples which are of no practical use except in larger sizes will be presented to the Customs authorities rendered unsuitable for use by means of incisions made every 20 cms. across the width.
- 3rd.—That samples of cloth do not exceed 30 cms. in size on both
- 4th.—That cables, metal wires, strips and mouldings of wood do not exceed 8 cms. in length.
- 5th.—That samples of wines, spirits, and other liquids are imported in vessels which do not exceed 5 decilitres in capacity.
- 6th.—That jewellery and plate of any metal are imported in a condition which renders them unfit for use.

7th.—Other samples of merchandise which cannot be rendered useless, and which may therefore be capable of being sold, will pay Customs duty on importation. The importer will nevertheless be entitled to a refund by the Customs authorities of the amount he paid in respect of import duty, with a reduction of 2%, provided that he re-exports them within one year from the time of declaring them and presenting them for inspection.

ARTICLE 21.—Each packet, flask, bottle or vessel imported into the country containing cigarettes, perfumes and spirits shall bear the name of the importer, as well as a stamp which will be supplied free by the Colombian Consul, Vice-Consul or Consular Agent at the place whence the articles are despatched. These officers will testify to this act in the certificate which must be affixed to the foot of each invoice.

Paragraph 1. Consular Officers will communicate to the Chiefs of Customs, in a special note, the number of stamps which they supplied for each consignment and the date when the same took place.

Paragraph 2.—The Government will provide the said officers with a sufficient number of special stamps for the purposes mentioned, and will issue instructions to which Consular and Customs Officers must conform in order that the provisions of the present Article may be duly carried out.

ARTICLE 22.—The national consumption tax on cigarettes manufactured in the territory of the Republic is repealed; but this repeal will be made simultaneously with the higher rate of duty enacted by this Tariff on foreign cut tobacco, and in the same proportion.

ARTICLE 23.—The tax on the manufacture of wax matches and wooden matches produced in the country is repealed at works which enjoy neither privileges nor exemption from Customs duty.

ARTICLE 24.—The imposition of national taxes on foreign articles or articles produced in the country which are conveyed from one part of the Republic to another is prohibited. Hence the following shall be repealed:—

1st.—The tax which has been levied in Panto on goods which passed from the Department of Narino to the Department of Cauca, in virtue of Decree No. 669 of 1908. The repeal of this tax will be carried out on and from the day on which the present Law comes into force.

2nd.—The tax on wheat flour, either national or foreign, which comes up the river Magdalena, established by Decree No. 166 of 1906, modified by Decrees Nos. 190 and 493 of the same year, 1931 and 596 of 1907. The annulment of this tax will apply in the same terms and within the same period as the increase of the Customs duty on foreign wheat decreed in this Law is carried into effect.

ARTICLE 25.—Any citizen is entitled to be present in the Customs house at the opening of parcels of goods and to sign as having witnessed the proceedings.

ARTICLE 26.—The present Customs Tariff shall apply to goods imported into the country, with the following reductions:—

|--------------------|------|
| Orocúe .....       | 10 % |
| Arauca .....       | 60 % |
| Buenaventura ..... | 20 % |
| Guapi .....        | 20 % |
| Tumaco .....       | 50 % |

The reductions conceded by this Article in respect of import duties on goods imported through the Pacific Customs houses shall not be extended to articles which at present pay duty under the existing Tariff without any reduction whatever.

These reductions shall terminate in the case of such Customs houses from the date on which traffic is taken through the Panama Canal, and as the Law decrees.

ARTICLE 27.—The duty on wheat flour imported through the ports of Arauca, Orocúe, Puerto Córdoba, and other ports which may be established in the Eastern part of the Republic shall be subject to a reduction of 50% on the duty which is paid in the Atlantic Customs houses.

ARTICLE 28.—Goods imported through a port in which import duties are subject to reduction and which are transported to the jurisdiction of another Customs house where higher duties obtain, will not be considered as "duties paid" unless the whole of the duties applicable at the latter Customs house have been paid.

ARTICLE 29.—Import and export duties shall be paid in all the Customs houses of the Republic in legal currency.

Paragraph.—In Customs houses where these duties have been paid in silver currency (plata sellada) payment may continue to be made in this currency according to its commercial value.

ARTICLE 30.—Exemption from Customs duty granted expressly by Law or by agreements approved by Law and entered into with railway, shipping, manufacturing, &c., concerns, in which contracts no details as to materials have been given, and where such contracts only refer to materials and appliances for such concerns, shall only apply to machinery and spare parts, rails, fishplates, bolts and nuts, tools, rolling stock and appliances for telegraphs and telephones, but in no wise to articles which may be applied to personal use. Hence, the latter shall pay the duties to which they are subject according to this Tariff.

ARTICLE 31.—In order to obtain the exemption sanctioned in the manner prescribed in the previous Article the Customs regulations in force relating to the matter must be complied with.

ARTICLE 32.—The Customs Board must meet the staff appointed under the Fiscal Code at least once a week; and if for any reason the Minister of Hacienda cannot attend, the Chief of Section No. 2 of the Ministry of Hacienda will preside at the meeting.

ARTICLE 33.—If it should occur that at any Customs house duties which are not in accordance with the Tariff have been levied on goods, and as a result the Government should resolve to re-establish the legal rate of duty, this rate will be levied in conformity with the terms prescribed by Law No. 24 of 1898, which replaces Article 205 of the Constitution, and rectification of accounts between importers and the Customs either as against or in favour of the Treasury shall not be required.

ARTICLE 34.—The Ministry of Hacienda shall arrange the Customs Tariff in alphabetical order, and after approval by the Customs Board shall publish the same so that it may prevail in respect of everything which is not clearly contrary to the present Law. To arrange the Tariff in this way the Ministry shall endeavour to include the names of all the articles of commerce which are imported into the country, the classification of which may be doubtful, and shall indicate the duties according to the general headings used under one or other of the Nos. in Article 1.

VII.—FURNITURE.

Note.—All the valuations under this heading are increased by 50% as from 1st October, 1919.

Note.—1. All furniture without exception must be declared with detailed statement of the quantity by units or dozens, according to the kind or value.

2.—The valuations given in the present Section apply indiscriminately to finished or unfinished furniture.

3.—Assessment according to declared value will be made in the case of fine or superlative furniture exceeding in value the valuations fixed in the present Section, by reason of its richness, the quantity or quality of ornaments, or of workmanship consisting of carvings, bronze, inlaid work, gildings or coatings such as lacquer, Martin's varnish or other.

4.—In declarations of value regarding unenumerated or used furniture, they are not to include articles having a valuation in the Tariff, such as carpet, stair, curtains, hangings, &c. In such case the Importers will have to declare them separately with designation of weight.

5.—As regards bedroom furniture incompletely assorted, each piece of furniture should be declared with the valuation assessed thereon.

a. When the marks, numbers and kinds of packages are not clearly stated;

b. When the classifications of the goods are ambiguous, and are likely to cause confusion with other goods of different quality or of different rates;

c. When goods do not declare according to their generic denominations or are not declared in detail according to kind;

d. When articles not being enumerated in the Tariff are not declared under their proper denomination, or at least when the component material or materials or the purposes for which they are destined, are not specified;

e. When the quantity, measurement, weight or volume of the goods are not clearly expressed in regard to the corresponding units of the Tariff;

f. When machines and implements are not classified according to their proper denominations, or when the purposes for which they are destined are not specified. To enable identification of the machines, importers will be required to produce models, plans or drawings;

g. As a general rule, no declaration will be passed if the articles designated therein do not exactly agree with the corresponding classifications of the Tariff;

h. It will be necessary to declare the gross weight of goods in addition to the unit by which they are taxed;

Tissues of transparent silk, blondes and veulings of the same material are to be excepted and dutiable by net weight.

MOXLEY, WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.—The monetary unit is the peso (100 centavos).

For weights and measures the metrical system has been adopted.

NOTE.—According to a Law dated October 4, 1890, all goods imported from abroad for consumption shall pay an additional duty of 5% on their evaluation. Goods which in the present Tariff are followed by an asterisk are excepted from this surtax.

Certain goods are also liable to internal consumption duties, these being paid by importers of foreign goods. See end of Tariff.

Textile goods composed of an admixture of different fibres not provided for in the Tariff shall not be dutiable according to the declared value (as an article not provided for) unless the subordinate fibre is present in a proportion exceeding 30 %.

Unenumerated goods shall pay 31 % on their valuation.

For the law relating to customs privileges in favour of primary materials for use in industries see end of Tariff.

The "Dario Oficial" of Uruguay for the 31st October, 1919, contains a resolution, dated the 29th October, in virtue of which artificial silk yarn and sewing thread imported in Uruguay are to be subject to Customs duty at the rate of 20 per cent. ad valorem (20 per cent. on the declared value).

NOTE.—The duty 20 per cent. is exclusive of the various surtaxes, which are understood to amount to an additional 9 per cent. ad valorem.
